BeamPines Formalizes Global Partnership, Extends Reach to 5 Continents, 22 Countries

NEW YORK, Jan. 14, 2011 /PRNewswire/ -- BeamPines, Inc., a global human resources consulting firm headquartered in New York City, is pleased to announce that it's joining forces with The Global Coaching Partnership Ltd, (www.tgcp-globalcoaching.com). TGCP, a UK registered Corporation, is a consortium of thoroughly vetted coaching and talent development companies operating at the highest industry standards of practice, providing clients with seamless support, global coordination and account management. Additionally, it provides a point of contact and cultural knowledge in each geographical area.

"In addition to the US and Canada, Europe, the UK, Asia, Australia and Africa are all covered and Latin American Companies are being developed," said BeamPines President and CEO Jay Santamaria. "We couldn't be more pleased by this expansion of our capabilities."

TGCP Chairman Hans-Joachim Spreng, of Frankfurt-Based Spreng Coaching, led the screening of BeamPines.

"We at TGCP have done our due diligence in the US over the last 18 months to find a best fit in terms of global cultural agility and respect to work with TGCP," said Spreng. "We are proud to have Jay and his team with us."

Spreng and TGCP recently accredited a new Spanish partner with an outstanding record in team coaching. It is the hope of TGCP that such partnerships allow the consortium to convey to clients an empowerment and alignment for performance in leadership that is unmatched by a single service provider.

"As one of the founding members, I am delighted to welcome BeamPines to our network," said Andy Johnson, Managing Partner of Change Partners, the South African member of TGCP. "The strength of TGCP depends on its member firms demonstrating an unflinching commitment to quality and a willingness to share experiences in support of one another, enabling all members to deliver world class service to our clients. I am very impressed with the contribution BeamPines has already made in the short time we have known them."
